DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 8, it is unclear if or how the objectionable term "general" limits the depicted formula.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese 2001-348556.

JP '556 discloses thermosetting resin compositions comprising a polyimide, an epoxy, an amine material and an imidazole material, the latter as hardening agents. The examples per Table 1-3 and claims are noted of particular interest. The compositions are useful in the production of laminates and circuit board applications.

The disclosure of the reference appears to meet the requirements of the present claims both in terms of the types of materials added and their contents. Given the chemical similarity of the reference composition to that presently claimed, it is reasonably believed that the former would enjoy all properties and characteristics governing the latter. The onus is shifted to applicants to establish that the product of the present claims is not the same as or obvious from that set forth by the reference.
